Conference Speaker

Dr. Margaret Schlientz Ph.D. speaks with the authority of one with 2 Masters Degrees; Theology (Marquette University), Spirituality (Creighton University) and, a Doctorate in Psychiatric Nursing from the University of Pittsburg. She spent many years as administrator and teacher at Marquette University, Milwaukee. She assists with the integration of psychological and spiritual gifts necessary for human growth and development. She is assistant director at the Institute for Priestly Formation at Creighton University and ministers to seminarians. "The Jesus in the Bible is still the Jesus of today," she says, "He did miracles then and He will still do them for us today, but we need to have faith and ask." She encourages people to pray with faith and to "go for broke" and ask for everything God wants to give us and for every kind of healing that we need. It is Dr. Schlientz's no-nonsense, cut-to-the-chase style that gets the audience's attention.

"We don't ask too much from God, we ask too little."

"My sheep hear My voice, and I know them, and they follow Me." John 10:27

Many people today struggle to hear God's voice. Too often, we expect to hear Him in the thundering of majestic words, when He often chooses to speak in a soft, gentle whisper. But He does speak! He speaks to us when we pray, when we read His Word and in those silent moments. He also speaks through His Church. He speaks to a heart that is broken but is filled with repentance, trust and expectation.

Every Christian has been instructed to "put on the whole armour of God" [Ephesians 6:13]. "Pray in the Spirit at all times in every prayer and supplication. To that end keep alert and always persevere in supplication for all the saints" [Ephesians 6:18]. Prayer is an essential element of a Christian's life that is most often ignored and that many Christians find difficult to do.

Christians must develop the attitude of praying to sustain their journey in this world with Jesus Christ.
